

TRAINEESHIPS

INFORMATION FOR EMPLOYEES/STAFF

Through RLDF & The Australian Retail Training Academy an industry-focused Registered Training Organisation (RTO) offers nationally accredited traineeships.

Traineeships provide training and assessment for practical and theoretical skills that enable staff to gain nationally-recognised qualifications as well as the experience to meet industry standards.

Traineeships are one of the best ways to get job training and qualifications. Traineeship training is highly regarded by business and industry, and is government regulated.

Traineeships are flexible employment-based training programs that combine work and structured training.

RLDF in conjunction with The Academy offers flexible on the job training that can be customised to suit the learning needs of individuals. The Academy provides all assessment material and all training is completed on the job so there are minimal alterations to rostered hours. Traineeships are also run at no cost to the employee meaning staff can earn as they learn!
